

TRISTAN TOWERS

HOMEOWNERS ASSOCIATION, INC.

OWNERS – GUESTS – LEASORS – RENTERS

HANDBOOK

REVISED and APPROVED: October 13, 2016
BOARD OF DIRECTORS

WELCOME

The condominium form of real property ownership had its early foundations during the Roman Empire. The word “Condominium”, meaning common ownership by two or more people, is derived from the language of the time. The condominium concept in Florida began when the 1963 Legislature enacted Chapter 718, Florida Statutes, providing the basic legal authority for the creation of condominiums. The condominium concept is distinguished from other types of joint or common ownership by the three distinct parts that make up the condominium:

- Exclusive ownership of a single unit;
- Joint ownership as tenants-in-common with others of common areas;
- An agreement among owners for the management and administration of the total condominium property.

The benefits of condominium living are many. However, along with the benefits there are compromises that must be made. Each owner/resident gives up a certain amount of freedom that might otherwise be enjoyed in a single-family home. Each owner/resident has a responsibility for keeping the common areas clean and in good condition. The regulations of the community are intended to benefit everyone. Should any owner/resident observe Tristan Towers rules and regulations being ignored or broken by someone else, it is that person’s obligation to inform the Board of Directors so that proper action(s) may be taken.

This handbook contains general information that will assist you with the many questions you might have regarding day-to-day operations and community living. You should refer to the recorded documents of Tristan Towers Homeowners, Inc. for a complete notification of restrictions. The seller should have provided these to you when you bought your unit. If you do not have them, please visit www.TristanOwners.com and login to the Owner’s Portal. The password can be found in your welcome letter.

We encourage any owner whose unit is a rental unit to provide the shortened version of this document to your tenants or rental agent, as most questions will be answered and many problems will be eliminated. The shortened version can be found in the Owner’s Portal at www.TristanOwners.com.

Condo Documents Explained

Declaration of Condominium, Articles of Incorporation and By-laws

The Declaration of Condominium is the primary formative document creating the condominium, and its provisions control over all other governing documents. In fact, Article 17.C. of the Declaration of Condominium specifically states that the Declaration controls over any other conflicting or inconsistent provisions of other condominium documents.

If you want to make any changes to the Declaration, an amendment to the document must be made. Any amendment must be voted on by the membership. The percentage required to pass an amendment will be specified in the Declaration or By-laws. Any such amendment must be recorded with the County Recorder and distributed to the membership.

The Articles of Incorporation is the document which creates the Association but defers on most issues to the Bylaws which contain the procedural and operational rules and details by which the Association performs its corporate duties. The Bylaws may also be supplemented in certain areas by the Condominium Act which provide default provisions in the event the bylaws of a particular condominium association fail to address the issue.

The governing documents should be read together as a whole, and only if there is a true conflict between the governing documents would there be a need to interpret the conflicting provisions. In many instances, it may simply be that the Declaration addresses an issue whereas the Articles of Incorporation or Bylaws do not. This is perfectly appropriate as the documents are intended to do different things. It may be that the Articles of Incorporation are silent on an issue whereas the Bylaws address an issue more completely. This is perfectly appropriate as well since the Articles of Incorporation are a formative document creating the Association whereas the Bylaws are akin to the rulebook governing the procedural operations of the Association.

The Rules and Regulations are not recorded. It is much easier to change the rules and regulations. The other governing documents give the Board the authority to adopt reasonable rules and regulations that are in accordance with the Declaration and Bylaws.

Reasonable rules and regulations concerning the use of the condominium property may be made and amended from time to time by the Association. To change or amend the rules and regulations, all that is required is a Board vote and a distribution of the changes to the membership.

All of the documents are enforceable in the same manner. The enforcement procedure should be set out in the documents. The types of enforcement include enforcement assessments, which would result in liens if unpaid; a lawsuit to require compliance with the documents, or in some cases, the Association is provided the ability to correct a violation once notice is given and charge the owner for the cost to correct the violation.

GENERAL INFORMATION

(Condensed: Refer to Articles of Incorporation, Declaration of Condominiums and By-Laws for specifics)

Air Conditioning Systems

The heating and cooling system for each unit is the responsibility of each unit owner. Each unit owner should be aware of the necessity to have the condensation system of the HVAC unit cleaned on a monthly basis by using a mixture of half bleach/half water. This solution is poured into the small opening in the white PVC pipe in front of the furnace by using a measuring cup or funnel and to help prevent the buildup of algae which can clog the pipe.

Appliances

Appliances are the responsibility of each unit owner. Of particular interest to each unit owner:

- Water hoses for the washing machine. Damage from a burst hose, including that to common areas and other units, is the responsibility of the unit owner. It is highly recommended that metal water hoses be installed to prevent burst hoses.
- The water heater should be flushed annually by hooking a hose to the drain at the bottom of the water heater and draining it into the nearest tub. The first time may result in significant sand and other debris draining from the water heater. As a bonus, this should improve the efficiency of the water heater.
- Homeowners can install a filter on the main water line coming into the unit to prevent sand in the lines from getting into the valves and pumps of appliances such as the washer or dishwasher.

Balconies

Balconies are considered common area. No clothes, sheets, blankets, laundry of any kind, or other articles shall be hung or exposed from any unit balcony or common element of the condominium property. No bicycles, carpeting or other moisture retaining coverings or unsightly furnishings are permitted on the balconies.

The American flag may be appropriately displayed during appropriate times in accord with the large number of military in the area. Holiday lights may be installed on balconies no earlier than Thanksgiving and must be removed by January 6th. One satellite dish is allowed per unit (size and dimension restrictions of Florida law apply).

Barbecuing with electric or gas barbecue grills only is permitted. No charcoal grills are permitted on the balconies. Charcoal grills and picnic space are provided on the grounds to the right as you exit the front door.

The Santa Rosa Island Authority has declared the feeding of fowl from the balconies to be illegal.

No drilling or fastening to the concrete or building of any object is permitted without board approval. This applies to walls and tiles (or any covering) on balcony floors.

Throwing items off walkways or balconies, climbing on balconies, and hanging over balconies are felony offenses in the Florida.

Bicycle Room

Unit owners must register bicycles with the Property Manager. To register bicycles, use the New Owner Registration Form found at www.TristanOwners.com. Unit owners will be provided identification tags for each bicycle. Spots in the bicycle rooms are first come/first serve. If all spots are filled, names will be placed on a waiting list. Bicycle rooms are a common element, therefore, bicycle spots do not convey with the sale of a property.

There is a limit of two (2) bicycles per unit allowed in the bicycle room.

A fee of $5.00 will be charged to replace a lost bicycle room key.

Board of Directors

A Board of Directors elected by members (owners) governs your Homeowners Association. The Board normally meets every other month. The meeting dates can be found in the Owner's Portal at www.TristanOwners.com as well as a listing of meeting minutes and board members.

All powers and duties of the Association existing under the Condominium Act, the Declaration of Condominium, the Articles of Incorporation and the By-laws shall be exercised exclusively by the Board of Directors, through its agents, contractors or employees, subject only to approval by unit owners when such is specifically required.

Each May (the Saturday following Mothers Day) the Association holds its Annual Meeting where members of the Board of Directors are elected. The Board welcomes your input. Should you desire to be a candidate for the Board, you may submit a Candidate Request form to the Association in accordance with Florida State Statute Chapter 718, Condominium (c/o Beach Condo Management) indicating your interest and your name will be added to the ballot.

The following procedures have been implemented regarding homeowner requests, including review of records.

3. All inquiries to the Board of Directors for which a response is expected must be sent by “Certified Mail”. Inquiries of this type will be limited to one inquiry per unit in any 30day period and may contain only one question.

The following procedures have been implemented regarding an Association Records Review Session.

1. A single two-hour session per week will be made available to homeowner/s requesting the review. The review is for the requesting homeowner/s only or their designated representative. The time and date chosen must be agreeable to both parties.
2. All review will be done at Tristan Towers or the management company office. The location will be at the discretion of the President.
3. Two Board members must be present for record reviews and will be appointed by the President and may include the President.

The key must be returned the day after the event unless alternate arrangements are made.

The Tristan Towers entry gate is to be kept secured. A representative from the event should be stationed at the gate to allow guest entry. Under no circumstances is the entry gate to be propped

Weather Emergencies

Owners/Residents are responsible for removing anything from their balcony that could become mobile objects (e.g., furniture, grills, and plants).

Any owner who plans to be absent during hurricane season and/or winter months should prepare his unit prior to departure by removing items from balcony and designating someone (rental agent, friend, etc.) who will check the unit prior to and after a weather emergency.

The HOA will charge an owner a flat rate of $100.00 or $100.00 per hour, whichever is greater, each time the association and/or Tristan Towers maintenance must prepare the unit for weather emergencies.

Tristan Towers will be secured well in advance of a hurricane's projected landfall. Residents should begin the preparation and/or evacuation process as soon as a storm is projected to enter the Gulf of Mexico. An evacuation order will be made for the island. Prior to landfall, all water and power at Tristan Towers will be turned off.

After a hurricane, roadblocks and security will remain in effect and no travel onto the beach is allowed until crews have determined a safe environment. After inspections are complete, entry into evacuated areas will be restricted to residents and homeowners with proper identification/documentation only. The Santa Rosa Island Authority issues re-enter stickers to owners and leaseholders each spring for the current year. This must be attached to the windshield. Until water and power are restored, no one is to remain at Tristan Towers.

www.TristanOwenrs.com will be updated with information as frequently as possible during a weather situation.

Web Site

Tristan Towers web site, www.tristanowners.com contains pertinent information including owner forms, maintenance issue reporting and weather information. The owner's portal is password protected and contains Condo Documents, board meeting agendas and minutes and other helpful information.
